

Write Out Loud! Creative Writing Performance Competition

*Are you an enthusiastic author or poet?
Would you like to share your writing with the community?*

This term we will be recording our very first Woodhill in the Studio podcast episode, featuring creative writing performances from children around the school!

To enter to feature on our podcast, all you need to do is:

- Write an original poem or story
- Practice reading your poem or story out loud
- Share your poem or story out loud with Miss Lichty

The deadline to submit your writing performance is Wednesday 1st March. Successful candidates will record their poem or story to be featured on the first episode of Woodhill in the Studio.

Please see below some writing prompts if you would like some ideas for your story or poem, but you do not need to use these:
